

Homepoint

A national wholesale mortgage lender and servicer that works with a network of more than 7,000 brokers and correspondent partners into its next-generation technology platform. Built on top of our cloud-first strategy, Homepoint can now see its data in motion and rapidly deliver customized business solutions to its workforce. Instead of being limited to seeing data at just one point in time, Homepoint can see how data has changed over time. Much like the weather radar that shows how your situation has changed by the minute, seeing our data in motion has enabled us to tackle long-standing business challenges. Our Homepoint Exchange platform combined with the low-code Homepoint Workspaces product significantly lowers costs and delivers improved customer experiences.

- On the redisclosure project alone, next-generation architecture — enabled by Homepoint Exchange and Homepoint Workspaces — would enable Homepoint to save $500,000 per month while achieving a 10% efficiency improvement.
- It decreased costs by $800,000 monthly and efficiency increased by 20%.
- The pace of deployments increased by over 40%.
